FOREWORD

Although Douglass High has been in existence for little more than two decades, it has produced some of the most outstanding and distinguished students in all of Loudoun County.

The knowledge gained within its portals has been amassed through the years by men and women who combine demonstrated competence in their respective disciplines with a dedicatory commitment to teaching, in order to instill within today's youth a part of the wisdom which they themselves have gained.

Personal attention by our teachers is the key to our academic program since the faculty determines the worth of our education.

In looking through this annual, we hope that the reader is able to see, in part, of what the heart of our school consists.

As life goes on and time progresses, the seeking and gaining of knowledge cannot be halted. We at Douglass High realize the vast importance of being well-informed and as the class of '67 prepares to leave, we depart with the assurance that we are well prepared for our debut into the hectic, but normal work-a-day world.

DEDICATION

In deep appreciation, for his many years of guiding us in knowledge, patience, understanding, and laughter, we the Seniors of Douglass High, dedicate this annual to Mr. Isaac J. Daniels. Mr. Daniels is a Math, Industrial Arts and History instructor.

As a teacher, he has dedicated, beyond the call of duty, to our constant cries of "help" in the field of education; as a citizen, he has given his services willingly to his community; and as a person, he has exemplified the meaning of the true worth of an individual by his many outstanding achievements.

To you, Mr. Daniels, we submit this yearbook proudly. May your many years in the teaching field bring other students as much enjoyment and appreciation as they have brought us.

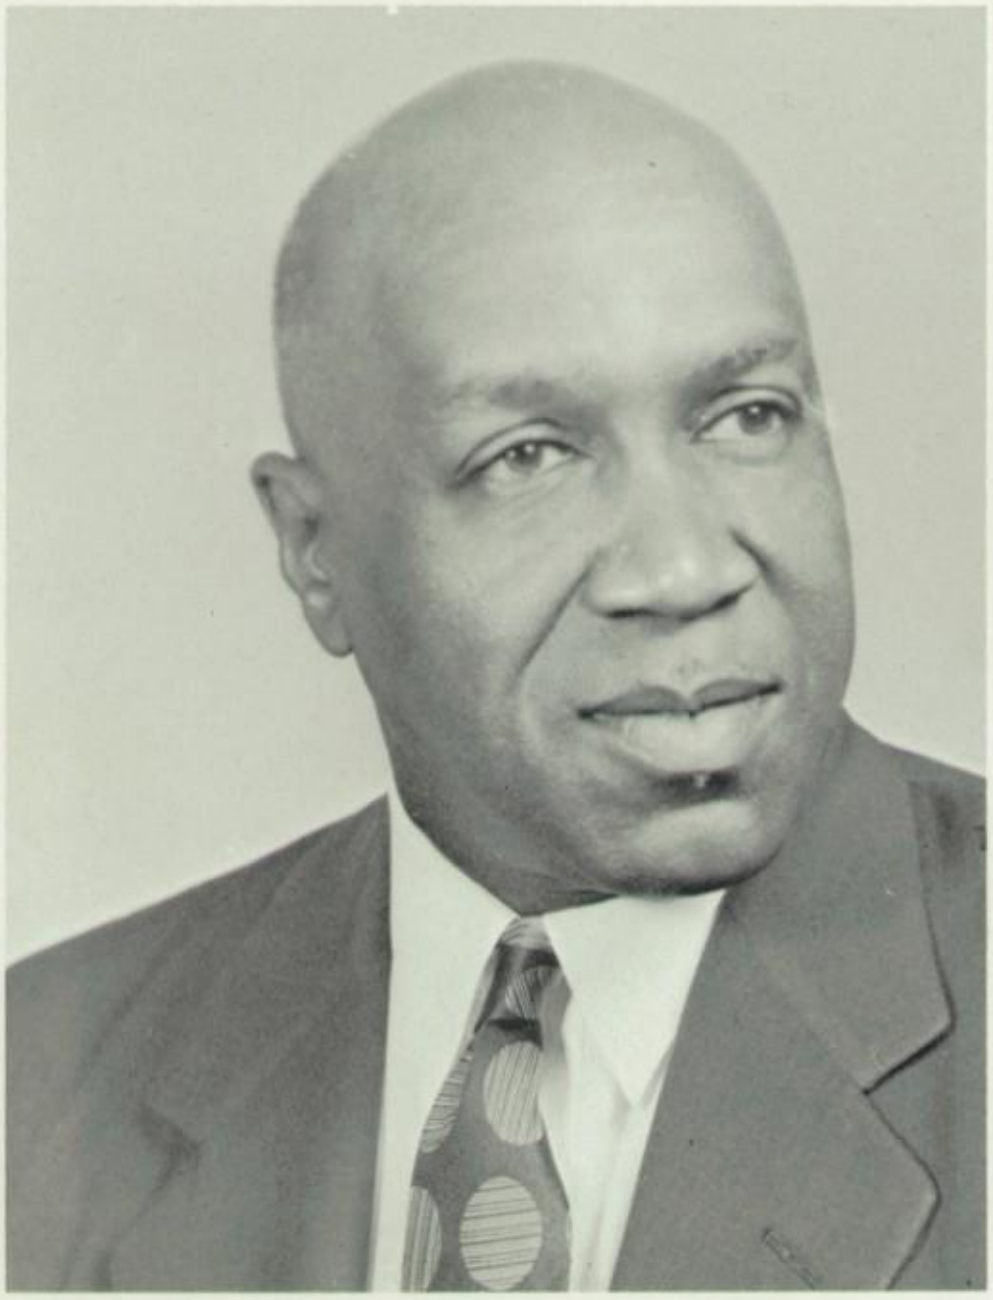
ADMINISTRATION



The Principal's Message

Messages from principlas to graduating seniors - whether orally presented or inscribed on the pages of official annuals or personal memory books - ofttimes become meaningless with the passing of years. With this in mind, I suppose it is only natural that I - like many other administrators, perhaps - should feel some slight trepidation in attempting to write another message for another group of seniors about to go forth on their journey "to fresh fields and pastures new."

The best of luck in all of your worthy undertakings is my hope. God bless you is my prayer. What more can I say? I do venture, however, to leave with you finally - for your continued study and meditation - these words from POPE'S ESSAY ON MAN:

"Let us, since life can little more supply
Than just to look about us and to die,
Expatiate free o'er all this scene of man;
A mighty maze! but not without a plan;
Eye Nature's walks, shoot folly as it flies,
And catch the manners living as they rise;
Laugh where we must, be candid where we can,
But vindicate the ways of God to Man."

— J. B. Woodson, Prin

THE GUIDANCE COUNSELOR AT THE CROSS ROADS

As Seniors of the class of ninteen hundred sixty-seven, you have just passed the second milestone in your educational preparation and you are now at the "Cross Road," which leads in three directions, to college, to vocational or technical school and to the World of work. The future course of your life will be related significantly to the wisdom of your choice.

We teachers, who "touch the face of humanity each day in teaching the ambitious, the indolent, the brilliant and the slow, the mature and the immature," hope we have successfully contemplated the quest in your determination to know the core of life.

In time we expect you to forget many of the facts that we have presented to you each day, here at Douglass, but we hope the influence of our shared ideas and experiences, will never fade.

OUR SPONSORS

Dear Seniors:

We congratulate you for your cooperative spirit and unremitting effort in producing this yearbook, the Douglass Ram. May it always serve as a reminder of your last year at Douglass High.

We extend to you our sincere best wishes for your continued growth in education as you seek your respective goals in life.

Now, as you strive to be productive citizens of tomorrow, as you seek the height of your ambition, may you always be guided by these words of inspiration by Edgar A. Guest.

"There are thousands to tell you it cannot be done;
There are thousands to prophesy failure;
There are thousands to point out to you, one, by one,
The dangers that wait to assail you.
But just buckle in with a bit of a grin,
Just take off your coat and go to it;
Just start to sing as you tackle the thing
That "cannot be done", and you'll do it."

Good luck and best wishes.

FACULTY

Mr. James B. Woodson, Principal

Mr. Woodson received his Bachelor of Arts Degree at Shaw University and his Master's Degree at Hampton Institute. He has furthered his studies at the University of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Woodson came to us in September of 1963 from the Walker Grant High School in Fredericksburg, Virginia, where he served as principal for a number of years.

We, at Douglass, are fortunate, indeed, to have such a conscientious and capable principal. During his four years with us three new courses have been added-- art, brick-masonry, and cosmetology.

His hobbies include reading and traveling.

Mrs. Eleanor D. Smith

All students, who are taking commercial courses, should want to be as fortunate as Mrs. Smith, to graduate from Douglass and then come back to be a Secretary. She graduated from Cortez Peters in Washington, D. C.

Her hobby is sewing.

Mrs. Ruth Craven

Our home economics teacher is Mrs. Craven a graduate of Storer College, where she received her B. S. Degree. At Pennsylvania State University, she received her Master of Education Degree. She furthered her studies at Howard University and George Washington University.

Mrs. Craven's hobbies are quite typical of a homemaker-- sewing, reading, and collecting jazz records.

Mrs. Otha Butler

Mrs. Otha Butler, the Librarian, received her B. S. Degree at Livingston College. Mrs. Butler has furthered her studies at North Carolina College.

She has been here at Douglass since 1964. We, the students of Douglass High, are indeed grateful for her loyalty and kindness. She is always willing to cooperate with you in any desirable way or manner.

Her hobbies are reading and collecting books.

Miss Thelma Burton

Miss Thelma Burton, a Commercial teacher, received her Bachelor of Science Degree at Virginia State College. Miss Burton specializes in typing and shorthand. She is a sponsor of the Future Business Leaders of America.

Her hobbies include reading and sewing.

Mrs. Mary Lucas

Mrs. Mary Lucas, one of the Commercial teachers, received her B. S. Degree at Virginia State College. She has furthered her studies at Virginia State College.

Mrs. Lucas enjoys reading and bowling. She is always seen at the typewriter.

Miss Leron Berry

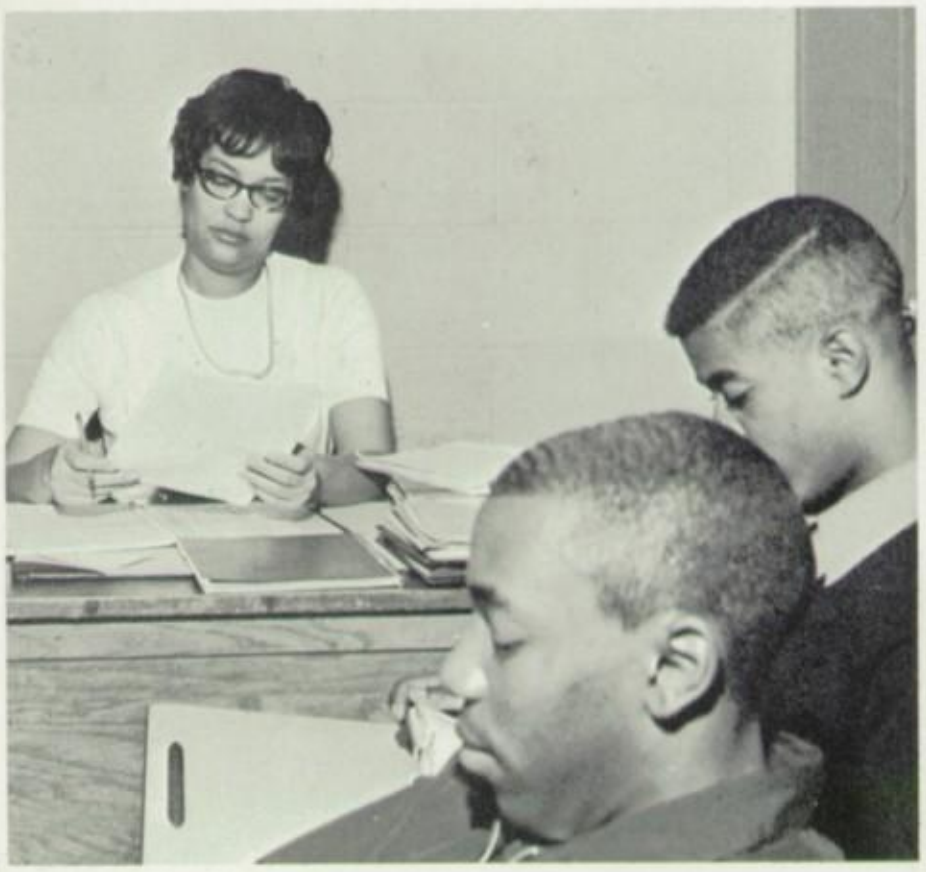
Miss Leron Berry, who is in the English Department, received her A. B. Degree at Livingston College. She furthered her studies at North Carolina College at Durham, North Carolina.

Miss Berry's hobbies are reading, attending good plays, and good movies.

Mrs. Bernice H. Woodson

Mrs. Bernice Woodson, who is in the French-English Department, received her "Bachelor of Arts Degree at Virginia State College and Master of Education Degree at Boston University." She has furthered her studies at Syracuse University. Mrs. Woodson's hobby is reading.

Mrs. Woodson is a very nice and cooperative teacher. She has sponsored a number of French plays, since she joined us here at Douglass.



Mrs. Alene W. Sheffield

Mrs. Alene Sheffield, who is in the English Department, received her A. A. Degree at Gibbs Junior College and her B. A. Degree at St. Augustine's College.

Mrs. Sheffield's hobby is reading.

Miss Vivan Taylor

Miss Vivan Taylor, who is in the English Department, received her Bachelor of Science Degree at the Agricultural and Technical College of North Carolina. She has done further studies in education at Virginia State College.

Her hobby is singing.

Mr. William Johnson

If there is anything one wishes to know about social studies, Mr. Johnson has all the answers. He received his A. B. Degree at Virginia Union University. At George Washington University and at the University of Virginia, he studied social studies and Guidance.

Mr. Johnson's hobbies include reading and visiting places of historic interest.

Miss Marjorie Turner

Every Senior Class at Douglass from 1964 up to the present time is familiar with Miss Turner's United States Government class. Miss Turner was graduated from Virginia Union University with a B. A. Degree in social studies. She studied history at Richmond Professional Institute.

Dancing and reading are her hobbies.

Mrs. Rosemary Odrick

Mrs. Odrick, who teaches Science at Douglass High received her Bachelor of Arts Degree at Virginia State College, Norfolk Division.

Since Mrs. Odrick has been here we have been quite lucky to win several certificates in the Science and Math Fair.

Mrs. Shula F. Davis

Mrs. Davis, our math instructor, received her B. S. Degree at Virginia Union University and her M. S. Degree at Virginia State College. She furthered her studies at the Rennsselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, New York, Brooklyn College and the University of Virginia.

Her hobbies include singing, and keeping herself occupied with constructive planning.

Miss Marcellus Ireland

Miss Ireland, who is in the Science Department, graduated from Bennett College. She has furthered her studies at A and T College, East Carolina College, St. Andrews College, and Kansas State College.

She spends her leisure time sewing and writing short stories.

Mrs. Barbara Coe

With so much traffic on our highways today, one must have a good teacher if one is to join this crowd. At Douglass, all of the students who wish to become skillful drivers are supervised by Mrs. Coe.

Mrs. Coe is a graduate of Virginia State College, where she received her B. S. Degree.

She doesn't spend all her time driving, though, because her hobbies are sewing and reading.

Mr. James H. Fields

It is every boy's wish to play sports, but before playing he must learn the rules and regulations for each game played in physical education. Mr. Fields, the boys' physical education teacher, received his B. S. Degree at Benedict College.

Mr. Fields' hobbies are quite ideal for a physical education teacher--basketball, football, and baseball.

Miss Lois Wright

Miss Lois Wright, who is in the Physical Education Department, obtained her B. S. Degree at North Carolina College at Durham.

Miss Wright's hobbies are reading, swimming and drawing.

Mrs. Francine Edwards

Mrs. Francine Edwards, who is in charge of our Basic Arts Department, received her B. A. Degree from Hampton Institute.

Mrs. Edwards has produced some fine art exhibitions around the campus. Her hobbies are sewing, arts and crafts (do it yourself projects), and abstract sculpture.

Mr. Alford Thompson

The choral division of our Music Department is instructed by Mr. Thompson. He is a graduate of Bluefield State College where he received his B.S. Degree. Mr. Thompson continued to broaden his musical mind by attending the Catholic University of America.

Mr. Thompson's work with the school choral group is certainly rewarding to the many parents who attend the music festivities. While music takes a great deal of his time, Mr. Thompson's leisure hours are spent bowling.

Mr. Charles E. Hankerson

Mr. Hankerson, the band instructor, is a graduate of Florida A & M University, where he received his B. S. Degree. He continued his studies at the Catholic University of America in Washington, D. C.

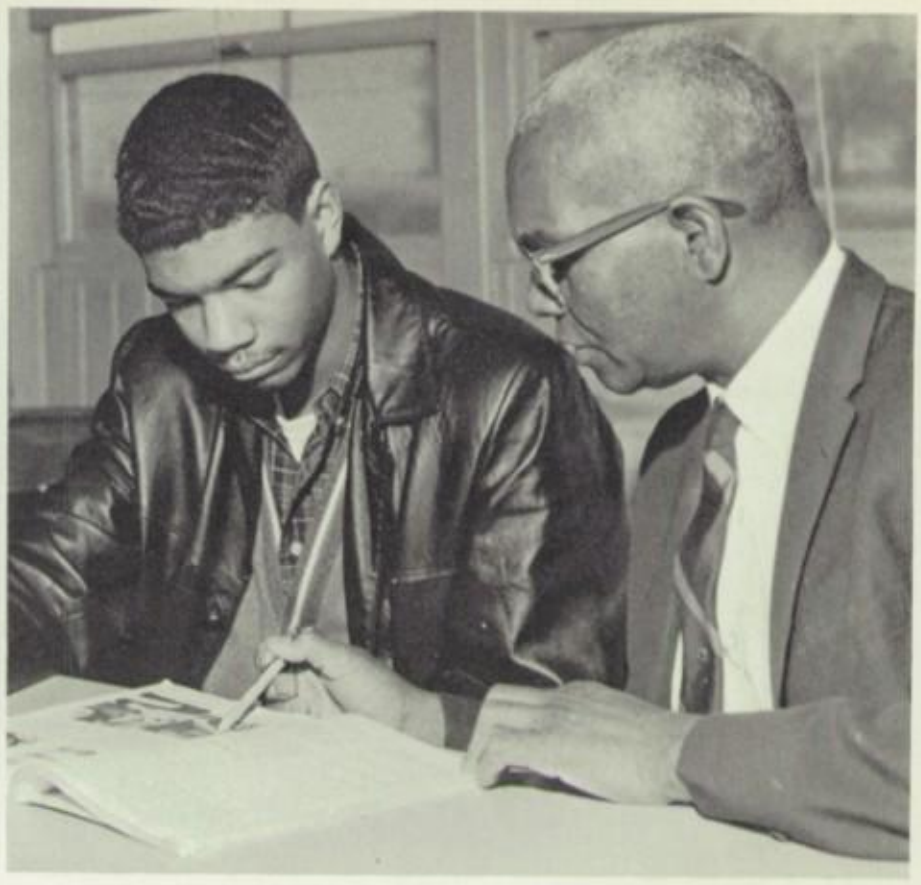
The Douglass High School Band has won several musical awards since Mr. Hankerson has been with us.

Fishing is his hobby.

Mrs. Slade

Mrs. Amanda DeHart Slade, the Cosmetology teacher, graduated from Christianburg Institute, in Christianburg, Virginia and St. Pauls' College, Lawrenceville, Virginia. She has furthered her studies at Virginia State College.

Before coming to Douglass in 1966, she taught Cosmetology at Christianburg Institute. Mrs. Slade spends her leisure time sewing, reading and traveling.



Mr. Isaac J. Daniel

One of our teachers here at Douglass is always kept busy and that is Mr. Daniel. This is evident because he teaches Math, History and Industrial Arts.

Mr. Daniel received his B. S. in Education at Hampton Institute. He took advanced courses in Education at Virginia State College, Virginia Union, George Washington University, and Shepherd College in West Virginia.

Along with teaching so many subjects, Mr. Daniel is often called upon for advice by the students. With so much work to do at school, Mr. Daniel relaxes at home working in his flower garden.

Mr. Harold Berry

Mr. Harold Berry, who is in our Industrial Arts and Mechanical Drawings Department, received his B. S. degree and trade Certificate at Virginia State College, Petersburg, Virginia.

His hobbies are woodwork, and hunting.

Mr. William Lewis

Mr. Lewis, our bricklaying instructor, received his Bachelor of Science Degree at Hampton Institute. Also at Hampton Institute, he studied Fluid Power and Hydraulics.

After spending a school term laying bricks, Mr. Lewis spends his summers traveling.

CLASS HISTORY

The year is 1966. The senior class of Douglass High School is now getting ready to embark on a new plane, to open a door to a new life, to make its footprints on the sands of time. After many years of hard work and preparation, it is now getting ready to leave behind countless memories that it holds so dear. But it can never forget those precious years gone by. Let us make our final reminiscences together.

Our unification as a group of 78 Douglass Rams started in the year 1963. We were timid, unsure and afraid as we made our entrance to Douglass High, to a new trend of changing classes and adjusting to different teachers. But the beautiful welcoming signs displayed in colorful array on the bulletin boards and in the halls, and the orientation we received from our faculty and student body gave us courage. We were no longer afraid. Under the direction of Miss Lillie Jackson, Mrs. Catherine Young, and Miss Barbara Hodges, our entire eighth grade class became organized into a tightly knit group of three divisions: 8-A, 8-B, and 8-C.

Our freshman year found us more playful in our adolescent stages, but more grade conscious and more alert. Our sponsors for that year, Mrs. Neal, Miss Selfridge, and Mrs. Odrick, helped us to overcome our "awkward" ways by teaching us to accept our different levels of maturation.

Then came our sophomore year, and we were still eager to climb the ladder a little bit further. Our membership had decreased to 89 members, but we faithful few who remained knew that we had to continue to hold the fort until we had wiped out all ignorance from our intellectual curiosities. The guidance we received from our sponsors, Miss Burton, Mr. Davis, and Mrs. Simms, helped us a great deal.

We entered our junior year more excited than before. We were excited because we had willfully proved that we could wipe out another year of our deadly enemy; Ignorance. During our junior year, we proved a little more too--that we had brains, beauty and brawn. We competed in a number of activities, and we won. We take pride in mentioning that Shelia King and Joyce Christian were inducted into the Honor Society. Violet Jackson was crowned May Queen. Garland Trammell, Elliott Pollard, Wayne Ambers, Warren Helm, Harry Johnson, and George Washington were awarded athletic letters. Reginald Evans received a basketball award as most valuable player in the VIA Tournament. The Junior-Senior Prom with its theme "Shower of Stars" climaxed our memorable activities for that year.

Now, our final day at Douglass High is about to draw nigh, and, we as seniors, look back over the years of both sadness and joy. We were sad when some of our classmates fell by the wayside, but we were filled with joy when our task had been completed. Ignorance to defeat was our goal, and we made it.

As we take our leave from this our Alma Mater, we will faithfully remember all that we hold so dear. Now, as intellectual citizens of tomorrow, we call upon William Shakespeare for our final good-byes: "Good night, good night! Parting is such sweet sorrow."

CLASS PROPHECY

The night was clear and the moon was yellow and the leaves came tumbling down. It was a fall night when I stood all alone watching the golden leaves fall gently from the tree. It was such a beautiful night that I began to meditate silently to myself. I thought about William Shakespeare who said, "When to the sessions of sweet silent thought, I summon up remembrance of things past." Suddenly, I could see in the distance that upon those leaves was the class of "67". I rushed into the house for my crystal ball. When I returned, I looked into it and there before my eyes, I saw our class, a stage of actors each playing his particular role in life. To the left of my crystal ball I saw a world of business men and women.

Betty Hughes was a private secretary for Congressman Charles Brown. Harry Johnson and his secretary Mattie Grayson were engaged in Peace Corps activities. Wayne Ambers appeared as a professional salesman for the U. S. Steel Corporation. Galen Brooks was President of the First National Bank of Los Angeles, California. Carl Caesar was Business Manager for Howard University. Joyce Christian had her own private office in the field of Business Administration. Teresa Ford was the Private Secretary to a government employee, Dulany Warner.

To the right of my crystal ball were the members of my class who had dedicated their lives to serving people. A number of head typists who came in contact with the public daily were; Gloria Douglass, Rosemary Grooms, Betty Hughes, Charlene Lansdown, Constance Roberts, Alice Thornton, and Edna Wilkerson. Frances Williams was a famous millionaire Rock N' Roll singer. Lucy King, who had also become a professional singer, was giving Frances much competition. Mattie Grayson was doing another case study as a social worker. Sheila King was getting a thrill out of teaching law at UCLA. Peggy Fairfax thought her job as Head of the English Department at Fisk University was very interesting. Nannie Corum was teaching successfully at Cortez Business School. The charming Mary Payne served as Grand Hostess at Dulles Airport.

Then, to the center of my crystal ball, I saw these skilled workers engaged in a number of varied occupations. Raymond Douglass worked very diligently as a bricklayer; George Long as a prize fighter; James Trammell and Ernest Jackson, Mechanical Engineers. Paul Vicent a clerk in Aldie, George Washington, an Electrician and Elliott Pollard, an Air Force Mechanic.

Noted beauticians in the surrounding area were; Louise Bushrod, Ella Reid, and Nina Lucas. Finally, I saw Warren Helm the famous artist selling pictures to Diane Ramey, who served in the WAC, and to Garland Trammell and Arthur Carter, professional athletes.

The crystal ball was finally blurred and the hazy images faded away. Again, I was surrounded by the golden leaves that fell gently from the sky. I rushed into the house to my private beauty parlor to await my husband, Charlie Brown, who was the President of the United States. I couldn't wait to tell him of this night when the class of "67" had all been actors on the stage of life. Each had played their parts well.

CLASS POEM

TO OUR OLD ALMA MATER

In the years gone by, happiness we found in the past--

But doom prevailed for that happiness could not last.

"As each year came and went

Each teacher was heaven sent-

An angel behind a desk

Who made our lives more happy and blest."

To our old Alma Mater we pledge allegiance forever-

The memories that linger will leave us never.

And to our beloved and loyal principal we leave our utmost gratitude-

We thought a lot of you and still do though some of us were naughty and sometimes rude.

To leave these warm and brotherly rooms of Knowledge-

To move up just one more step trying to climb the stairway to college.

We leave with tear-filled eyes

And utter to you dear Douglass our last good-byes.

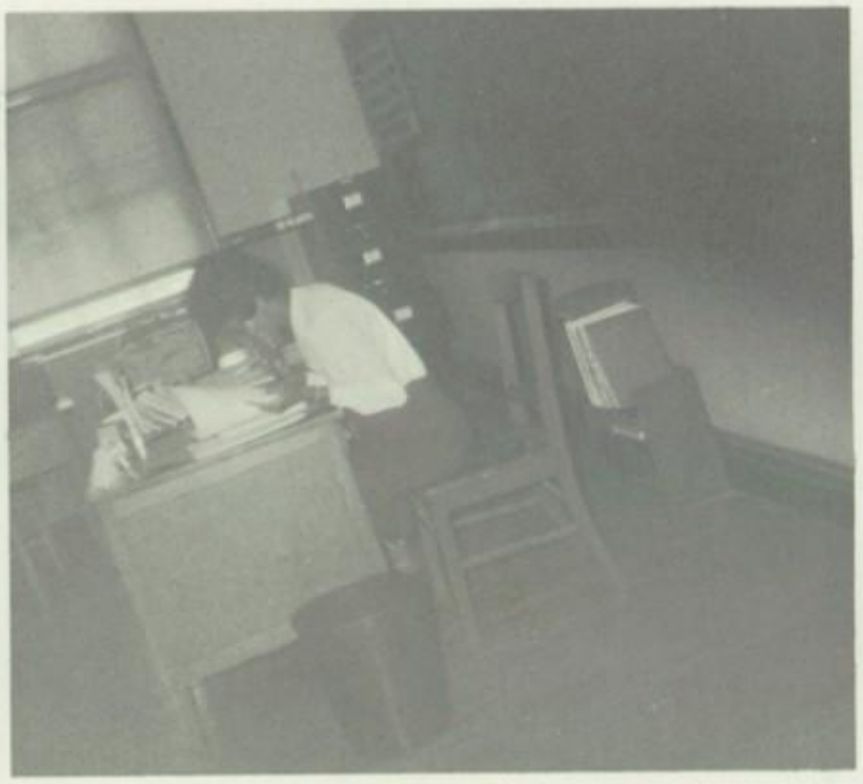
CANDID SHOTS

"This plan's 'gotta' work."

"I know I paid for my lunch!"

"Now where did they go?"



"This sure is hard work!"

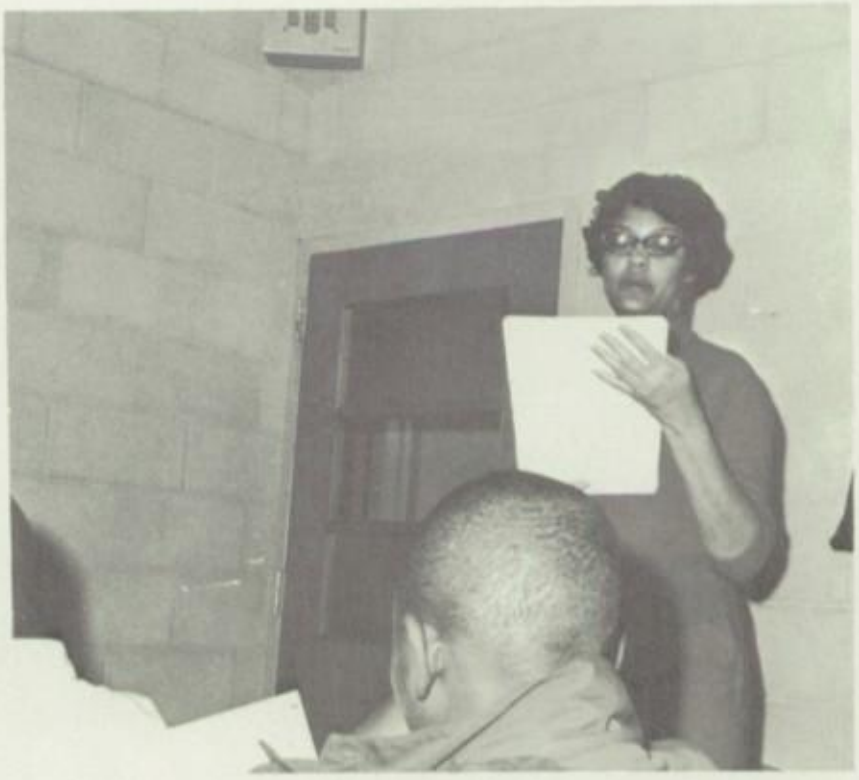
"Is it a bird, a plane, or payday?"

"Now, come on in here, right now."

"Ha, hee, I stuck my finger again!"

"Now let me think."

"Ready to march?"
"Anyone for a cha-cha?"



"The correct head, oops, 'verb' is!"

"Who wants to sing ? ? ?"

"Free at last!!"
